AUTOMOBILE LAW.

Important Rescript By Law Court.

An important rescript has just been handed down by the Law Court, which so well defines the duties of automobile drivers that it seems best to print the rescript in full.

Penobscot County—Alice Savoy vs. James McLeod. Rescript, Spear J.

It would be of little avail to analyze the testimony in this case on the question of liability. The report shows that there was ample room for the defendant to have guided his machine safely past the team in which the plaintiff was riding, had he been paying proper attention to the rights of the team.

In view of the accidents and tragedies that are daily occurring in the operation of automobiles, the present case seems an available opportunity for a statement of the familiar rules of law with more definite application, than has yet been announced in this State, to the duty of persons who undertake to drive upon the public highways, the engines of power and peril now represented in the mechanism of the automobile. If not strictly a matter of judicial notice, it is a matter of common knowledge, that death and injury are of daily occurrence due to the inefficiency, negligence or reckless conduct of those who are permitted to engage in the operation of these powerful machines. A mania for speed seems to have seized the minds and dominated the action of many of the automobile operators, whether owners or chauffeurs. This class of drivers apparently assume that the foot passenger or team upon their approach will so hastily change its course as to relieve the operator from any diminution of speed, that he may have his machine under control and avoid accident, if the unexpected happens, and the passenger or vehicle or child does not, as quickly as anticipated, obey the mandate of his whistle or horn.

It is also a matter of common knowledge, that all adults of ordinary prudence do not always immediately do the right thing, or exercise the best judgment, in cases requiring quick thought and quick action. This failure of men to act alike, under like circumstances, is so general in its application, that it must be regarded as a habit, which all persons, coming in contact with human action, must be held to recognize and anticipate, as an existing condition. In view of this habit, due to the inherent frailities of human nature, and the rule of law, that the degree of diligence deemed in law sufficient to constitute due care, is always commensurate with the danger to be avoided, it is the opinion of the court that the driver of an automobile on the public highways, constantly travelled by pedestrians and teams, and occupied by children of all ages, should, to establish due care, exercise so high a degree of diligence in observing the rights of a foot passenger or team, when approaching them, as to enable him to control it, or stop it if necessary, to avoid a collision, which cannot be regarded as a pure accident due to contributory negligence.

But it may be claimed that this rule of diligence renders the operation of automobiles impracticable. If so let the business stop. They should be required to do everything that human agency can do to avoid taking human life. This court declared in Cameron vs. Street Railway, 103 Maine, [illegible], that "the court should establish, as law, the rule which prevents injury or loss of life, rather than that which invites or even permits it. This rule is based upon reason and public policy." But the claim of impracticability is not well founded. Prudent drivers neither kill children nor injure men, except at very rare intervals, and then only in cases of unavoidable accident or contributory negligence. But whatever the result, these requirements are essential to an effective rule of safety, and are in harmony with the rights of travelers upon the highway, [illegible] in the streets however they may come there.

But no new principles of law have been evolved for express application to the operation of automobiles. We have simply endeavored to apply the well known principles of law in a specific way to this class of cases, as

BETHEL BOARD OF TRADE ENTERTAINS.

Last Friday noon the Bethel Board of Trade entertained the State Highway Commissioners and members of the Rumford Chamber of Commerce.

The Commissioners, Lyman H. Nelson and Philip J. Deering with their chief engineer, Paul D. Sargent, were met at the depot, and together with the Rumford people, were taken in automobiles over the village and around to Prof. Chapman's, where a short stop was made. Prof. Chapman, always the genial host, threw open his doors and bade all enter that they might view the beautiful fireplaces and the artistic arrangement of the interior of his home.

Incidentally Prof. showed the Commissioners the new road he had built in front of his house and they pronounced it one of the best.

Returning to Bethel Inn the party, joined by many of the business men of the village, had luncheon. The management had planned for about sixty people but extra places were soon set up and over seventy people were fed. Much credit is due the Inn for the excellent repast and the efficient manner in which the crowd was handled. Bethel feels proud of its new hotel.

After luncheon the Commissioners were taken over the road to Shelburne, going through West Bethel and Gilead to Shelburne village and returning on the other side of the river. The Commissioners were much impressed with the route, especially the one on the westerly side of the river, and it is safe to say that State Highway "O" will end over this route.

The Commissioners were here to look over the proposed route of State Highway "O" which had its terminus up through Grafton and Upton to strike the New Hampshire state line at Cambridge but the better route and the route that would serve the most people seemed to be through Bethel and Gilead to Shelburne, N. H., and it was for the purpose of seeing this route that the Commissioners were in Bethel. They returned with the Rumford people as they were to hold a hearing in Rumford on Saturday.

Those who took luncheon at the Inn were: R. E. Swain, R. L. Melcher, H. H. Hutchins, Geo. D. Bisbee, G. W. Allen, Stanley Bisbee, C. E. Britton, F. E. Rendall, L. W. Blanchard, F. E. Goding, J. A. LaFlamme, E. J. Roderick, Waldo Pettengill, Henry A. Briggs, Fred O. Eaton, Matthew McCarthy, Walter G. Morse, A. J. Landry, E. M. Beasey, of Rumford; W. J. Wheeler, J. Hastings Bean, W. L. Gray, of So. Paris; H. B. Foster, A. J. Stearns, Norway; F. B. Coffin, A. T. Heath, F. L. Ordway, W. C. Newell, of Gilead; A. E. Herrick, E. C. Park, J. U. Purington, I. C. Jordan, F. F. Bean, N. R. Springer, T. C. Chapman, H. Mason, J. M. Philbrook, F. L. Edwards, E. E. Whitney, E. S. Kilborn, H. N. Upton, R. R. Tibbetts, J. H. Little, W. D. Chapman, I. L. Carver, H. P. Dennison, F. B. Merrill, A. F. Copeland, F. E. Hanscom, C. B. Valentine, A. Van Den Kerckhoven, W. C. Curtis, W. J. Upson, Wm. Bingham, J. G. Gehring, A. M. [illegible], Ceylon Rowe, H. [illegible], E. P. Lyon, E. L. Brown, P. R. Tuell, H. H. Hastings, F. A. Tibbetts, G. L. Thurston, L. W. Ramsell, T. B. [illegible], [illegible] King, J. H. Young, H. C. Rowe, D. G. Lovejoy, and the Commissioners, Lyman H. Nelson and Philip J. Deering of Portland, and Paul D. Sargent of Augusta the chief engineer of the State Highway Commission.

NOTICE.

To the Republicans of Oxford County:

There will be a meeting of the Republicans of Oxford County at the Court House in South Paris, on Tuesday, November [illegible], next, at one o'clock in the afternoon.

You are earnestly urged to come and bring others with you.

Questions of the utmost importance to the welfare of the party are to come up for discussion, and plans and preparations for the campaign of 1914 are to be considered.

If you can not come yourself be sure to send some one in your place. We must have a large, enthusiastic meeting.

STATE HIGHWAY "O."

Hearing at Rumford, Nov. 8.

Many people attended the hearing last Saturday before the State Highway Commissioners in regard to laying out State Highway "O."

The proposed route started at Auburn, running past the easterly shore of Lake Auburn, through Turner village, Brettun's Mills, Canton, Dixfield, Rumford Falls, Hanover, Newry, Grafton, Upton to strike the New Hampshire State line at Cambridge.

Investigation prior to the hearing convinced the Commissioners that the northern end of the route should be through Bethel, West Bethel and Gilead to strike the state line at Shelburne. As no one appeared at the hearing to favor the Grafton and Upton route the Commissioners told the Bethel contingent that they need not put in any argument for the Bethel and Gilead route but might consider it settled that the route would run through Bethel and Gilead on the westerly side of the river.

The main point of contention at the hearing was whether the route should run as proposed or should go through Poland Springs, Oxford, Norway, Paris, Woodstock, Greenwood, Bethel and Gilead. Both factions were willing that the route should go both ways but if there was to be only one road built each wanted it. They were willing to help the others get their route later on and admitted that they really needed it, but just now their needs were the greater.

L. W. Blanchard, Esq., opened the discussion for the advocates of the proposed route and called upon the representatives from the various towns through which the route would pass.

Those speaking in favor of the road from Rumford were: Hon. Waldo Pettengill, A. E. Stearns, Stanley Bisbee, John Stephens, Col. Bisbee and others. Auburn was represented by J. S. P. H. Wilson, chairman of the Fish and Game commission and Mayor Fowles also sent letters and petitions in favor of the road. Turner was represented by Dr. Irish and four or five other leading citizens, while the selectmen and others from Livermore spoke in favor of the road. Buckfield was represented by a petition in favor of the road. From Canton came Nathan Reynolds and a member of the board of selectmen and from Dixfield a delegation headed by Newton S. Stowell, George Walker and others. Peru sent one delegate in favor.

The claims of this side to the controversy were based largely upon connecting the large town of Rumford with the city of Auburn and also upon the large amount of improved road that Rumford had already constructed that would become a part of this state highway.

Attorney Clary of Livermore Falls was present with several witnesses opposing the location as suggested and asking for some changes in the town of Livermore to include Livermore Falls.

Alton C. Wheeler, Esq., opened the case for the advocates of the route to go through Norway and Paris, and based their claim upon the Central location, a shorter and easier road to [illegible], and the fact that it would accommodate many tourists going from Poland Springs to the White Mountains. He was followed by Col. A. J. Stearns of Norway. Messrs. Wight and [illegible] of So. Paris and [illegible] of Woodstock.

Col. Bisbee of Rumford spoke a few words in rebuttal, and the hearing adjourned at one o'clock that the Commissioners might accompany the So. Paris and Norway people over a part of their proposed route, and take the afternoon train at So. Paris for Portland.

No decision is expected at present but Bethel people rest assured that whichever way the road goes, it will pass through Bethel.

DR. McBURNEY DIES SUDDENLY.

Formerly A Bethel Visitor.

Dr. Charles McBurney, the eminent New York surgeon, who attended Presidents McKinley and Garfield after they had been shot by assassins, died Friday morning, Nov. 7, at the Brookline home of his sister, Mrs. Mary Schlesinger, from heart trouble. He was known as the "father of appendicitis."

Dr. McBurney had been ill for several years past, during which time he did not engage in active practice. Saturday he returned from a hunting trip in Maine, and it is thought that he overtaxed his strength while [illegible] afield. On returning to Massachusetts he went to his sister's home in Brookline. He was taken ill Thursday and a local physician treated him. He failed to rally from the attack and died at 1.45 A. M., Friday.

From the time that Charles McBurney got his M. D. at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbus University in 1870, four years after his graduation from Harvard, he rose steadily in his chosen profession. At the time of his death he was consulting surgeon at a number of New York hospitals and at different times in his career he was either a visiting or consulting surgeon at Bellevue, Roosevelt, St. Luke's, St. Mark's, Presbyterian and Orthopedic hospitals in New York and also at the Hospital for the Ruptured and Crippled. From 1880 to 1902 he was sole attending surgeon at Roosevelt Hospital. He was a lecturer and emeritus professor of surgery at the Columbia Medical School.

Dr. McBurney was widely known as an appendicitis expert and a skilful operative surgeon. He was a member of several foreign medical associations, including the Surgical Society of Paris, the Roman Surgical Society and the Medical and Surgical Society of Constantinople. He was also an honorary Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh.

After a practice which extended through nearly forty years in the city of New York, Dr. McBurney went into practical retirement in 1907, on his country estate at Stockbridge, Mass. He had never recovered his health after his efforts to save the life of President McKinley, and although he did not definitely abandon his practice at that time, he was able to do little or no actual work.

He left his home at No. 38 East Thirty first Street, which he had built only a short time before, and sought health in travel and in seclusion on his country estate. The place lies in the Berkshire Hills. Fanny Kemble had once lived there, as had Nathaniel Hawthorne. Dr. McBurney was a keen follower of outdoor sports, particularly golf, and he became president of the Stockbridge Golf Club, a part of the course of which is laid out on the McBurney estate.

Born in Roxbury, Mass., on Feb. 17, 1845, Dr. McBurney was 68 years old at the time of his death. On Oct. 8, [illegible], he married Miss Margaret W. Weston of New York. His wife died last June.

Dr. McBurney is survived by two sons, Dr. Malcolm McBurney and Henry McBurney, and one daughter, Alice, the wife of Dr. Austen F. Riggs of New York.

Many Bethel people will remember the genial personality of Dr. McBurney as he spent several months in Bethel in [illegible] and was also here at other times.

JOSIAH DUTTON.

The remains of Mr. Josiah Dutton, aged nearly 85 years, who died at Augusta last Wednesday night were brought to Bethel last Friday, and services were held at the Methodist church at 11 A. M. in charge of Rev. T. C. Chapman. Burial was at the cemetery at North Bethel.

Mr. Dutton was at one time a Methodist minister. He followed the trade of carpenter and contractor and together with his brother-in-law, the late M. C. Foster, built the Universalist church at Bethel, in which town he lived for many years. He married Sylvia Smith of Hanover and there were two children, Belle, who died several years ago, and Erlon, the last of the family, who lives at Middle Intervale.

GOULD'S ACADEMY NEWS.

Mr. James Hayford was a guest at Holden Hall for the week end.

Mr. Harris Hamlin visited his home in Milan, Friday of last week.

Miss Marie Swan of Locke's Mills spent Saturday as the guest of Miss Gladys Davis at Holden Hall.

Miss Ruth Farrington, who is teaching at Greenwood Mills, called at Gould's Academy, Monday, and visited some of the classes.

The leader of the Y. W. C. A., this week is Miss Ida Packard. A cordial invitation is extended to all, whether they are members or not.

Our Y. W. C. A. is planning to make comfort bags for the Seaman's Friend Society and will be glad to receive contributions of materials for the same.

Friends of Miss Jessie Davies of Andover are glad to learn that she has fully recovered from her recent illness and will return to her studies at the Academy this week.

Owing to the heavy rain on Sunday and the consequent rise of the Androscoggin River, many of the students were unable to return in time for the opening of school Monday morning.

Wednesday the 19th, Miss Sanderson of the Colby Y. W. C. A., and another member of the Association will talk to the Y. W. C. A., at Gould's. The members are anxious to have their friends hear Miss Sanderson and hope many will show their interest by attending.

A very interesting meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at the Academy, Thursday afternoon, between four and five o'clock, with Mr. Hanscom as leader. The topic was Social Purity. It proved to be one of the most interesting and helpful meetings of the year.

MISS FELICIA BARKER.

On Saturday afternoon at the home of Clarence Barker of West Bethel occurred the funeral of Miss Felicia Barker of Auburndale. Miss Barker was the youngest daughter of Samuel and Hannah Barker formerly of Bethel, and spent all her early days in Bethel and at the Barker Homestead at West Bethel now occupied by Clarence Barker.

When a girl she joined the Bethel Congregational Church under Mr. Hammond as pastor, later she went to Boston to live with her sister, Miss Maria Barker, and attended the Mt. Vernon Church of Boston for many years and through this church became associated with the Chinese Sunday School, where she taught for more than twenty years, being ever a patient teacher and a willing worker in all branches of church work.

About twenty years ago Miss Barker and her sister moved to Auburndale, Mass., where they lived until the present time. For several years past Miss Barker has been an invalid suffering from a complication of diseases and in her last days was tenderly cared for by her sister. The end came after several days of great suffering on Wednesday of last week. Prayers were held on Thursday afternoon at the home in Auburndale and on Friday morning the body accompanied by Miss Maria Barker was brought to Bethel. Rev. W. C. Curtis of the Bethel Congregational Church conducted the services at the Barker Homestead on Saturday afternoon, and burial followed at the West Bethel Cemetery.

It can truly be said of the deceased that she led a true Christian life and was ever faithful in the performance of the duties of life. She leaves one sister, Miss Maria Barker, of Auburndale, Mass., to mourn her loss.

HOLLIS COOLIDGE NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH.

Hollis Coolidge met with a very painful and almost serious accident last Wednesday afternoon while working on the new reservoir of the Bethel Water Co. The board on which he was standing tipped up, sending him to the cemented bottom, fifteen feet below.

Fortunately he struck on his left side instead of his head. His arm was considerably crushed and there were other bruises, but no bones were broken and no internal injuries.

He has suffered much pain in his arm and also from the nervous shock, but is improving and is able to be around the house.

An English Author Wrote:

"No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves—November!" Many Americans would add no freedom from catarrh, which is so aggravated during this month that it becomes constantly troublesome. There is abundant proof that catarrh is a constitutional disease. It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases. Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable eradicating scrofula, completely cures catarrh, and taken in time prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can put off taking this medicine, in view of the widely published record of its radical and permanent cures. It is undoubtedly America's Greatest Medicine for America's Greatest Disease—Catarrh.

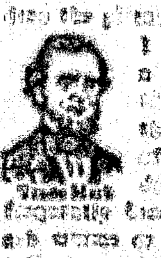
Friends of Dr. Arthur Wiley of Bar Mills will be very much pleased to hear that he is able to be around the house and is expected that he and his family will visit Mrs. F. L. Edwards next week.

Some of the older residents of this village may be interested in the following as Mrs. Stockbridge lived in Bethel at one time. Mrs. Sarah Stockbridge who died at the Mansion House, Poland Springs, Saturday, Nov. 1st, after a short illness following an operation, was a daughter of General Alvan and Cynthia Bolster of Rumford. Mrs. Stockbridge was born in Rumford and was the youngest daughter of a family of nine children of which Mrs. Hiram Ricker, Sr., of Poland Spring was the oldest sister and Hon. William W. Bolster of Auburn, was the oldest brother. The only surviving member of the family is J. Q. A. Bolster of Melrose, Mass., who is 88 years old. She married Abather Stockbridge, a brother of the late Rev. [illegible] and Virgil Stockbridge of Washington, D. C. She had two sons both of whom are dead. Mrs. Stockbridge has spent many years at the Mansion House and had a large acquaintance with whom she was very popular.

Sick Children Made Well



Every mother likes to see her children grow into the picture of health and strength. I find that the stomach is a source of constant trouble to some children and there is a constant need of some safe remedy. A disordered stomach is frequently due to worms, either stomach worms or pinworms.

You can absolutely depend upon Dr. True's Elixir to expel worms and tone up the stomach, bowels and general health.

Dr. True's Elixir, the discovery of my father, has been on the market for over 60 years. That's proof of its efficiency. Get the time-tried Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. Good for adults also. At your dealer's, 35c, 50c and $1.00. Advice free. Special treatment for tapeworms. Send for book.

What indeed does that word "cheerfulness" imply? It means a contented spirit; it means a pure heart; it means a kind loving disposition; it means humility and charity; it means a generous appreciation of others and a modest opinion of self. —Thackery.

One day at a time, that's all it can be.
No faster than that is the hardest fate,
And days have their limit, however we Begin them too early, or stretch them too late.
One day at a time—
It's a wholesome rhyme,
A good one to live by,
A day at a time.

SAVE TIME BY BEING ORDERLY.

One of the best means of saving time is to cultivate the habit of being orderly. Every article that is thrown down hurriedly must be picked up sooner or later and put in its proper place; if it had been taken care of at first it would not have required the second handling. A busy housewife often speaks of the orderly habits which were taught by her mother, and although she thought when she was a child that it was hard always to have to remember to hang her hat in the closet when she came in from play instead of throwing it on the nearest chair, she rejoices now that she was taught the value of being orderly and was not allowed to be careless in her use of time any more than she was with the clothes she wore, or the money she was given to spend. She says that today the habit has become so thoroughly rooted that it is far easier for her to put away her wraps in their place when she comes in than to throw them down and be constantly reminded by the disorderly appearance of the room that she must pick them up. If for any reason she has not hung them in their place at once upon coming in, she is sure to do so at the first opportunity, so that she will not have to think of them again. If the child is taught to pick up her playthings instead of leaving them for some older person to do, it may be made a part of the play so that will not be a hardship and later the habit formed will help to make work much easier when she becomes a housekeeper.

In teaching a child to be orderly, a real old-fashioned housekeeper used to say, "Do not make work and you will not have it to do," and when the little daughter had grown to womanhood and had a home of her own to care for, she said the compliment belonged to her mother when a friend remarked, "You keep your house the nicest with the least amount of work of any one I ever saw." When she was sewing she had a way of dropping every thread and clipping in a drawer of the machine, so there was no litter on the floor to be swept or picked up afterward; when she finished cutting bread, she gathered up the crumbs at once; it took but a moment, and there was no danger of their being brushed on to the floor. She saved both time and money when she went shopping by having a list prepared beforehand with the exact amount of each article that she wanted to purchase, so that she would not buy either too much or too little and waste went was left over or have to return for more, and by having a pencil and tablet hanging in the kitchen and writing the name of the article as soon as she found she was out of it there was never any delay when she was ready to do any baking; and the carpet sweeper was never put away half filled with lint and dust to fall out at the most unexpected time upon a nicely swept carpet.

These are but few of one busy woman's time-savers, but they prove her practical method of saving work by not making it.

The heavy fall of rain overflowed the river, and no crossing by boat Monday.

Weak Sickly Ailing Women

What more can we do to convince you that you positively can find perfect health and relief from your suffering by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? All the world knows of the wonderful cures which have been made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, yet some women do not yet realize that all that is claimed for it is true.

If suffering women could be made to believe that this grand old medicine will do all that is claimed for it, how quickly their suffering would end!

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women in the world—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true.

Read What These Women Say!

Bluffton, Ohio.—"I wish to thank you for the good I derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound sometime ago. I suffered each month such agony that I could scarcely endure, and after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely cured.

"Then I had an attack of organic inflammation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am cured. I thank you for what your remedies have done for me and should anything bother me again, I shall use it again, for I have great faith in your remedies. You may use my testimonial and welcome. I tell every one what your remedies have done for me."—Mrs. Rhoda Wingate, Box 635, Bluffton, Ohio.

Pentwater, Mich.—"A year ago I was very weak and the doctor said I had a serious displacement. I had backache and bearing down pains so bad that I could not sit in a chair or walk across the floor and I was in severe pain all the time. I felt discouraged as I had taken everything I could think of and was no better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am strong and healthy."—Mrs. Alice Darling, R. F. D. No. 2, Box 17, Pentwater, Mich.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs. It has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

AN INCESSANT COUGH.

A severe cough is always a grave symptom. It may not indicate organic disease of the lungs. Even though the cough is a functional disturbance it is of sufficient gravity to demand prompt attention.

The dropping of mucus from the back part of the nose into the throat indicates nasal catarrh. Sometimes this goes on a long time before the patient pays any attention to it. It is stated on good authority that mucus dropping into the throat in this way is apt to excite catarrh of the stomach. At any rate, the condition ought to be corrected as soon as possible.

Mrs. Bourland, of Frankston, Texas, found after using Peruna that not only did the incessant cough disappear, but the dropping of mucus into the throat had also ceased. Read what she says:

"For twenty-three years I was a constant sufferer from chronic catarrh. I had a severe misery and burning in the top of my head. There was almost a continual dropping of mucus into my throat, which caused frequent expectoration. My entire system gradually became involved, and my condition grew worse. I had an incessant cough and frequent attacks of bilious colic, from which it seemed I could not recover. My bowels also became affected, causing alarming attacks of hemorrhages.

"I tried many remedies, which gave only temporary relief, or no relief at all. I at last tried Peruna, and in three days I was relieved of the bowel derangement. After using five bottles I was entirely cured.

"I most cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna to any one similarly afflicted."

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

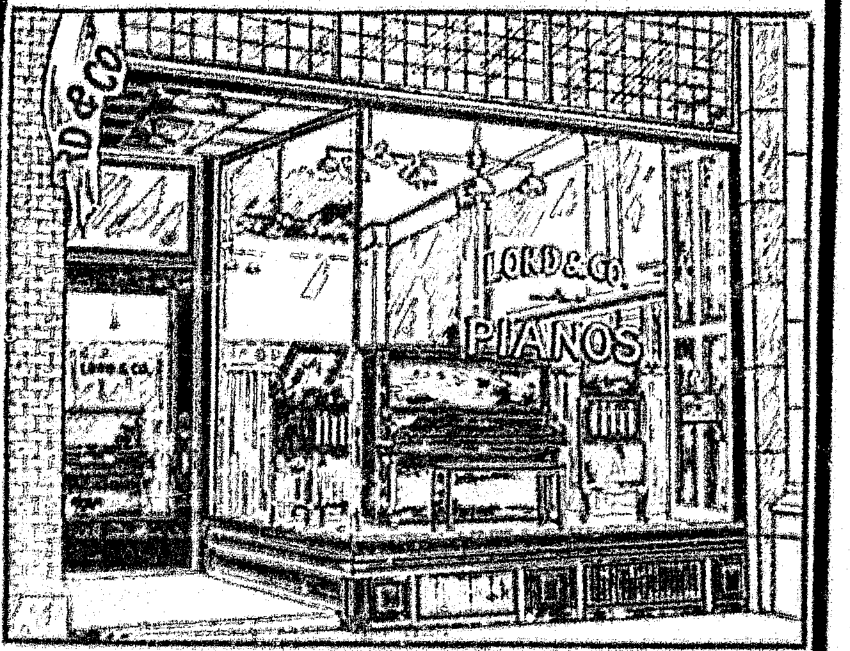
$50.00 FOR SIX WORDS

Everyone trying will be awarded a beautiful Art Calendar in colors 9x10 inches, entitled "The Prelude."



DIRECTIONS

We desire a number of trade sentences of six words each, to be used in connection with our business. Each sentence must contain the word "LORD'S." The object in offering these prizes is to have a number of short, crisp sentences which may be used in advertising "LORD'S PIANOS." Below you will find three samples, giving you an idea of the kind of sentences we are looking for.

"Greatest Value Lord's Pianos, Portland, Maine."
"Lord's Pianos are Real Musical Instruments."
"Lord's Guarantee on Pianos Means Something."

Write your name plainly and mail or bring to our store.

The $50.00 will be divided as follows:

1st. $10.00 to the person sending in the best sentence.
2nd. $ 8.00 to the person sending in the second best sentence.
3rd. $ [illegible] to the person sending in the third best sentence.
4th. $ [illegible] to the person sending in the fourth best sentence.
5th. $ [illegible] to the person sending in the fifth best sentence.
6th to 25th $1.00 each to the 20 persons sending in the next 20 best sentences.

In the event of more than one person sending in the same sentence and being judged to one of the prizes, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

The advertising department of the three daily papers of Portland, Maine, will appoint one each of the three persons who will act as judges. Only one answer from one person or from one household will be allowed.

Everyone answering will be awarded a beautiful art calendar in colors, 9x10 inches entitled "The Prelude." Mail or bring your answer to the store by Nov. 15, 1913. No answer will be considered that is received after that date.

A plant for the manufacture of paper pulp is to be installed at the University of Maine by the department of chemistry, in connection with the two new courses in paper and pulp which have been added to the curriculum. The plant will necessarily be on a miniature scale, but will include all the stages in the manufacture of pulp. This will probably be the only plant of its kind in use in any American college, as the University of Maine is a pioneer in this sort of technical education, as far as the United States is concerned.

The benefits of the parcel post have extended to the Eskimo and he is making use of the newest of Uncle Sam's aids to cheap transportation to the advantage of his own pocket and the discomfiture of the fur companies. According to advices received in Washington, Thursday, the price of a white fox skin among Eskimos in Northern Alaska has jumped from $2 to more than $20 in the last few months. The natives have learned that they do not need to sell the skins to their fur traders, but that they can send them direct to the States to avoid the middlemen. Polar bear and other valuable skins have taken corresponding jumps in price at the source.

Winfred T. Denison, an assistant attorney general in the department of justice, and a native of Portland, Me., has been selected for secretary of the interior for the Philippine Islands. His nomination is expected to go to the Senate soon. Mr. Denison is 40 years old, was graduated from Harvard and was prominent in the government's prosecution of the sugar frauds.

At thousands of post offices throughout the country there will soon be put on sale a combination postage stamp book. It contains 24 two cent and an equal number of one cent stamps, and the price is 73 cents. The popularity of the old form book of 12 two cent stamps selling for 25 cents has suggested that the combination of two and one cent stamps will meet favor with the public. Instructions to postmasters regarding the sale of the new books were issued from the Post Office Department on Nov. 5.

Governor William T. Haines Monday received a letter from Imre Kiralfy, director general of the Anglo-American Exposition, which is to be held in London from May to October, 1914, to celebrate the centenary of peace and progress in the arts, sciences and industries of the United States of America and the British Empire, announcing that May 25 had been set aside as Maine Day. An invitation was also extended to the Governor to be present and assist in the festivities of the day, together with other State officials. Maine Day in the Anglo-American Exposition comes a day later than it did at the Chicago Exposition and had it not been for the 24th falling on a Sunday the same date would have been observed.

Results of a scientific investigation of the capacity of birds to destroy insects were announced at the University of Wisconsin by A. R. Cahn, assistant in the zoological laboratory. A Virginia wren, weighing half a pound, showed a remarkable ability for devouring pests. In one day, the bird ate 144 small insects, 12 grasshoppers, 12 cutworms, 2 water bugs, 1 water scorpion 2 inches long, 2 sunfish 1 1-2 inches long, 1 stickleback, 2 1-2 inches long, 1 caterpillar and 13 flies. The second day it ate 3 live hornets, 1 crawfish 2 inches long, 1 frog 1 1-2 inches long and 1 grass snake 8 inches long. The snake caused the bird some worry. But after the bird had tried eight times to swallow the snake alive it finally killed the reptile and gulped it down. In the two days the bird ate more than its own weight.

RUMFORD.

St. Margaret's Guild was entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. B. B. Clark at her home on Prospect Ave.

Frank A. Martin of Boston was the guest of his mother, Mrs. A. K. Martin, for a few days.

F. A. Gonya of Bar Harbor was the guest of his brothers, S. J. and O. J. Gonya, over Sunday.

Quite a number enjoyed the dance at the Institute on Friday evening. The music was good and the floor excellent.

Mrs. M. L. Griffin is in Portland at the hospital for treatment.

The "Duzupleze" Club will be entertained this week by Miss E. Coffin at her room on Crescent Ave.

Mrs. Edith Mitchell of Mexico has purchased the restaurant formerly owned by Chas. Lapham on Congress street.

Mrs. H. L. Elliott and daughter, Olive, are spending a week's vacation at the home of Mrs. John Hathaway of Bryant's Pond.

Word has been received from Archie Felt, stating that he has safely arrived at St. Petersburg, Fla., and has begun upon his duties at the Plaza Theatre.

On account of the amount of rain that fell Saturday night and Sunday it was not deemed best to risk the passenger train Monday morning over the railroad bridge which is being repaired and so the passengers were requested to walk across and get into another train on the other side. It was also necessary for the Bryant's Pond steamer to go to Bethel rather than Bryant's Pond as the roads were impassable to the Pond. The falls have not been as high for eight years as they were Monday.

On Friday evening the Christian Endeavor of the Baptist Church will entertain the Christian Endeavor of Mexico.

Jas. H. Kerr has been awarded the contract for grading the extension of Congress Street and will begin at once.

The friends of Miss Blanche Newcomb were shocked to learn on Friday of the death of her mother, Mrs. Rachel Newcomb at the Portland Maine General Hospital. Mrs. Newcomb died from severe burns received while cleaning gloves with gasolene. Mrs Newcomb is now employed in the Harmon Flower Store in Portland, and about a month ago her mother went from Rumford to Portland to be with her daughter.

The Rumford Candy Kitchen has changed hands and James Avdoulos of Athol, Mass., has become the owner. Mr. Morris the former owner will return to Portland and take charge of his store there.

On Friday a delegation from the Rumford Chamber of Commerce was invited to be present at Bethel at a banquet given in honor of the State Highway Commission which met there to come over the road from Bethel to Rumford. About ten of the representatives of the Chamber of Commerce were present and made the return trip with the Commission. In the evening Hon. Lyman H. Nelson, chairman of the Commission, spoke in the Business Men's Club Rooms on the new highway law and what the commission intended to accomplish under it. On Saturday morning at ten o'clock a hearing was held in the Business Men's Club rooms before the State Highway Commission for the purpose of hearing all parties interested in the question whether or not the route from [illegible] by the way of Turner, No. Turner, Britton's Mills, Canton, Dixfield, Rumford, Bethel and Gilead to the New Hampshire line shall be designated as the state highway, or [illegible] shall go by the way of South Paris and Norway instead of Rumford, Canton and Dixfield. Representatives from So. Paris and Norway were present and presented their side of the case in as strong a manner as possible, but it would seem that the greater amount of business done in Rumford, Canton and Dixfield would make it much more feasible to have the highway extend through this section.

On Saturday afternoon from four until six the members of the Searchlight Club gave a reception to the teachers and mothers of Rumford. Mrs. Edith Lee Neal, Mrs. E. L. Cowan and Mrs. H. L. Hanson were a committee on arrangements. Refreshments of tea, sandwiches, almonds and candy were served by Miss Melitta Carroll, Miss Mary Raynes and Miss Louise Bisbee. Mrs. Sanders and Miss Marie Bartlett furnished music and the affair was a great success.

Hon. G. D. Bisbee and wife leave Saturday for Washington, where Mr. Bisbee is a delegate from Maine to the National Conservation Congress.

Mrs. P. B. Clark entertained St. Margaret's Guild at her home on Prospect Ave., Tuesday afternoon.

On Tuesday morning Probate Court met at Rumford and Mr. Park of So. Paris and Judge Herrick found the roads in pretty bad condition part of the way, and found an automobile stranded so deep in the mud that it was necessary to secure two yokes of oxen to pull them out.

Mrs. Owen Smith of Mexico left Saturday for Philadelphia on account of the illness of her niece.

Miss Laura McMennamin returned Tuesday from a week's vacation spent with relatives and friends in Berlin, N. H.

Larry W. Damon entertained his brother of Colebrook, N. H., over Sunday.

The second concert of the season will be held at the Institute on Sunday afternoon.

Horace Irish and wife of Buckfield were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Irish over Sunday.

The class in pedegagogy conducted by Rev. Wm. Gaskin met with Mrs. Chas. Brown on Monday evening at her home on Washington street.

On Tuesday morning an alarm of fire was rung in from the Mexico side which proved to be a house owned by Clark Houston situated on Roxbury road. The fire department did some excellent work and succeeded in partly saving the house.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Stillman, an aged couple, of Peru, Fred Farnam of Livermore, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Bisbee, Leforest and Alice Cushman of Canton, Mr. and Mrs. James Sackles and Gladys Morrill of Sumner. Ice cream and cake were served to all. This finished the evening's entertainment, which was much enjoyed by all and after a late hour the friends departed for their homes wishing Mr. Oldham many happy returns for his next birthday.

THE PRAISE CONTINUES

Everywhere We Hear Good Reports of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Rumford Falls is no exception. Every section of the U. S. resounds with praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. Thirty thousand persons are giving testimony in their home newspapers. The sincerity of these witnesses, the fact that they live so near, is the best proof of the merit of Doan's. Here's a Rumford Falls case.

Otis W. Burgess, Rumford Falls, Me., says: "About five years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble. I had sharp pains in the small of my back that came on me suddenly while at work. I tried different remedies, but nothing seemed to give me relief and I began to get worse instead of better. I was so bad at times that I couldn't work. After I stooped, I couldn't straighten without assistance. I could hardly turn in bed, my back felt so sore. I was losing my appetite and was getting weak. Dizzy spells also began to bother me. When someone suggested my trying Doan's Kidney Pills, I went to the Cote Pharmacy and got a supply. Six boxes entirely cured me and I am now well and strong. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all who suffer from kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

POEMS WORTH READING

SAY IT NOW.
By Mrs. M. J. Foltz.

Speak the word, do the kind act,
Ere the years have onward sped,
Give me all the love and sunshine
While I'm living not when dead.

Tell me I have made life brighter
By the loving words I've said,
Tell me I have cheered and helped you
While I'm living, not when dead.

Oft the way is rough and lonely,
And my wounded heart has bled;
Cheer me when the way is dreary,
Love me now, not when I'm dead.

In the grave there is no heartache,
We'll forget where sorrows led,
Speak some word of hope and comfort
While I'm living not when dead.

Tell me I've been true and faithful,
Tell me now ere life is fled;
In the grave I cannot hear you,
Say it now, not when I'm dead.

A BED.
By Harry H. Kemp.

I'm glad I have a good warm bed to snuggle in tonight,
For the winds are in the alleys and the stars are cold and bright;
I'm glad I do not have to tramp along the paven street,
A-tremble with the bitter blasts which numb and freeze the feet.

But I'm sorry for the others who must wander to and fro,
And suffer as I had to not many month's ago;
I think of them, the thousands in the bitter, bitter dark
Who tramp alone along the streets with none but God to mark,
For, though inured to many shames, my heart can ne'er endure
The suffering and the hardship of the ever patient Poor.

I've dozed by dying campfires and waked shuddering to the night,
And have seen the starry zodiac, ere dawn, depart from sight;
And oft I've slept in city jails where Vice was gathered in,
And each man hugged the nightmare of his own particular sin,
And I've slept in side-tracked boxcars while the fruitless Winter lay
By my side, a cold companion, till the wind forgot the day. . . .
So I'm glad I have a good warm bed to snuggle in tonight,
For the winds are in the alleys and the stars are cold and bright.

Ground Gripper Boots

We have been selling this line of boots for both men and women for more than two years, and our sales have increased constantly during this time. They are good for everyone to wear who wants comfort and satisfaction, but they are especially good for people who are suffering with flat feet, broken arches and other foot troubles. We have scores of customers who have been greatly benefited by wearing them. It can be truly said of them that when GROUND GRIPPERS go on, foot troubles go off.

We have a good stock on hand constantly for men and women. The price is $5.00, and they are as good or better than many so called medical shoes that cost a dollar or two more. Do not be deceived, take nothing but the real GROUND GRIPPER, they are imitated but never duplicated.

We are the only agents in this part of the State.

AUTOMOBILE LAW.

has been done in the cases of steam roads and electric cars. The foundation of every principle of law invoked is found in what might be regarded as a legal maxim—the very foundation of the rule underlying the doctrine of due care and negligence—that in all human action involving hazard, the law imposes the duty of using such diligence, as is commensurate with the danger to be avoided. This rule applies to the operation of steam railroads upon the ground of public policy and safety, and finds expression in Libby vs. Maine Central R. R. Co., 85 Maine, 34, in this language. "This law requires common carriers of passengers to do all that human care vigilance and foresight can, under the circumstances, considering the character and mode of conveyance, to prevent accident to passengers. To require anything less would be to leave the lives of persons in the hands of the reckless, and unprotected against the negligent and incautious."

The same rule applies to the operation of street cars and automobiles except that the degree of diligence required is varied to correspond with the diminished danger. Marden vs. Street Railway, 100 Maine, 41; Towle vs. Morse, 103 Maine, 250; Gurney vs. Piel, 105 Maine, 501. It requires no further citations to show that it is a well established rule that great danger requires great vigilance.

That the modern motor car, equipped with engines developing from twenty to eighty horse power, capable of reaching a speed of from twenty to eighty miles an hour, and moving with such momentum that no ordinary obstacle can resist it is of a highly dangerous character, is so apparent that the mere statement of the facts is equivalent to proof. The finding of the jury upon the question of liability was manifestly right. Nor do we discover any evidence in the absurd testimony of the medical experts that warrants us in disturbing from the plaintiff's own version of her injuries, upon the question of damages.

Motion overruled.

MAINE STUDENTS NINTH AT NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW.

The University of Maine Stock Judging Team won ninth place in the Judging Contest at the National Dairy Show at Chicago, October 23rd, with a score of 3492 points out of a possible 4000, and thereby, again demonstrated their ability over the teams from New England.

Sixteen teams from the best dairy states in the United States, competed, Missouri winning first place and Michigan last.

The Team was composed of J. H. Holmes '14 of Westbrook, Harold J. Shaw, '14 of Sanford, and C. A. Lyon '14 of Pittsfield. The Team was required to judge eleven classes of dairy cattle consisting of Ayrshires, Guernseys, Holsteins and Jerseys.

Out of a possible perfect score of 4000 points, this Team scored 3492, which was 268 points below the first team.

Mr. Shaw won honors by scoring the third highest individual score in judging both Ayrshires and Guernseys and the team won third place in judging Holsteins.

This was the same team which won first place at the Brockton Fair the first of October and it maintained its standing over all the other New England teams at Chicago.

In view of the fact that this is the first time a team from Maine has entered the competition at Chicago, this standing is indeed a very creditable one and credit is due, not only to the members of the team, but in a large measure to the ceaseless efforts and excellent coaching of Mr. V. G. Aubry, of the Department of Animal Industry.

LIKE POISON IS THE GAS OF INDIGESTION

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil Clears Gas Out Quickly.

Thousands of distressed persons will go back to using castor oil now that it is tasteless.

There is nothing like Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil to clear out the "inner man." It is a relief for the pain and bloating of gas.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is a new and remarkable discovery. The nauseous taste and smell are taken out and nothing else. It's all of the oil, but none of the taste, and so well purified that it acts better, without griping, and does not upset the stomach. Children take it readily.

Women and mothers tell us that Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil a quick relief from the illness of poor digestion, and it is a perfect laxative. Kellogg's is not mixed or flavored, just a true tasteless castor oil.

Ask for Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil at any drug store. Not sold in bulk, but in 25c or 50c bottles, trademarked with a green castor leaf bearing the signature, Kellogg's. Made only by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., only by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y., refiners of vegetable oils.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Events of Interest from the Seat of Government.

By J. E. Jones.

Turbulent Mexico.

The international nuisance to our southwest kept even the placid and urbane William Howard Taft on the uneasy seat for a large portion of more than a year before he went out of office. President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have got to know Mexico well enough to realize that those people are not to be coaxed, and there is a growing opinion in Washington that only a show of force will ever straighten out Mexican conditions. General Carranza, the leader of the constitutionalists, is in high favor in Washington, although little has been admitted in that direction. The Constitutionalists are in complete control of the greater portion of Mexico. It is noteworthy that in the battles fought on Mexican soil, that large armies seem to be able to oppose one another for hours at a time without many soldiers being hurt. The Huerta government in its last days has been having no end of financial difficulties, and this no doubt is largely instrumental in having weakened it. The rebels claim they have about sixteen soldiers to one rifle, and want the embargo lifted so they can change the ratio.

The Navy Holiday.

Let no one be deceived regarding all this talk about a naval holiday. While this may be a wish fathered by the Lord of the Admiralty of Great Britain, the Right Honorable Winston Churchill, and echoed through our own House of Representatives, and seemingly tentatively endorsed by the Secretary of the Navy, yet there are more than "57 varieties" of reasons why there is not likely to be a curtailing of navy building in any of the great countries of the world. Already Germany has vetoed the proposal, and that practically settles it. Again, what, for instance, would the steel trust, the powder trust, and the naval officers clubs, and army and navy leagues find to do if there was a sudden falling off of activity in building great armaments? A naval holiday would disrupt the whole scheme of things; and to bring it about in our own country the controlling power of the army and navy, which has a thorough hold upon Congress, would have to be broken. This would be a job even larger than our reformers, as President Roosevelt outlined in last year's campaign.

A White House Wedding.

There is to be a White House wedding this month, and Washington is quite agitatedly excited over the event. Miss Jessie Wilson is to become the bride of Mr. Francis B. Sayre and the knowing ones say that it is a "regular love match." The young lovers do not belong to the mighty four hundred. Mr. Sayre is to become an assistant in Williams College, at Williamstown, Massachusetts, where the young couple will live. Mr. Sayre and Miss Wilson have been brought together through their work among the poor.

Money Laundry Will Stay.

Laundry machines used by the Treasury Department for cleaning paper money to fit it for circulation, will be retained by the present Administration. This has been made plain by United States Treasurer John Burke. The "laundry" will make an annual saving of $[illegible] to the Treasury.

Professor Taft's Fall.

Former President Taft will see something of a gain to Washington, as has been illustrated by the fact that a contract has been let for the new government building at New Haven. The building will be built of pink Tennessee marble, which the former President asked the Department to use, and it will cost $[illegible].

Echoes of the Vacant Chamber.

At a recent calling of the House of Representatives, when but [illegible] very [illegible] and thirty-five Congressmen, it was found that "they were all there except [illegible]." The Republicans [illegible] then realizing the [illegible] to the House, where, although the Members were [illegible] very little has been done [illegible] of those [illegible] for the tariff and currency bills. This, of course, was aside from the work of the Ways and Means and the Banking and Currency Committees. The Republican leader, Mr. Mann, in speaking of the absentees, said "that it may be that some members think that when they are elected to Congress their duties cease when they present their certificates of election." Representative Towner of Iowa, cannot find any justification in the idling in the House, and he declares that "we ought either to adjourn or go to work." Towner insists that there is not the slightest possibility of the currency bill being passed at this session. Representative Baker, a California Democrat, explains the peculiar condition in Congress by asserting the purpose of the majority to be to refuse to take up any other legislation which might "distract the country's attention, but to rivet and fix it upon the currency legislation that the people are demanding and insisting on." He says that Mr. Mann and his followers are simply "playing politics," and that "it was the intent when this Congress convened to pass a tariff bill." He thinks that "it was the purpose and intent also to pass a currency bill." He says now that the House should wait while the Senate completes its work. Leader Mann, who is always full of argument, and sometimes bubbling over with sarcasm, remarked that the present situation in the House of Representatives is peculiar, and he adds: "We may lead a horse to water, but we cannot make him drink." Elucidating this old saw he says that if the absent ones could be compelled to return to Washington, they could not be compelled "to do business." "If this Democratic Congress would now adjourn until the fourth of March year after next," adds Mr. Mann, "leaving the country to itself, it would confer upon the land the greatest patriotic favor within its power. Next to that, to declare that it will not do any business is probably nearest to patriotism." However, the Republican leader reminded his colleagues that there was pending before the House an immigration bill, a graded injunction bill, a trial by jury for contempt bill, a woman's involuntary servitude bill, the great trust problem, "and a hundred or more questions of immense importance."

Control by the Executive.

Senator Cummins of Iowa stirred up something of a hornets nest by a political speech in the New Jersey campaign, in which he criticised the control of Congress by President Wilson. Senator Martine of New Jersey assumed to scold Mr. Cummins for this speech. The offense of these ones was explained by Senator Cummins to his colleagues as a protest "upon the tendency of the Executive to trench and to invade the domain reserved by the Constitution for Congress." The Iowa Senator asserted that in his opinion "that tendency unfortunately grows from year to year." To make it clear that his remarks were not personal the Senator recalled the fact that he had criticised both of the former Presidents, Roosevelt and Taft, upon the same score. Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, and Senator Owen of Oklahoma injected themselves into the controversy, and Mr. Owen referred to the reading of the President's message by Mr. Wilson, as having been described by the press as a "message from the throne." He denied that the President had used "the big stick," and characterized the position of Senator Cummins and others as actuated by jealous partisanship. Speaker Champ Clark of course, had to have his say about the matter, and issued a statement giving his O. K. to the matter, and issued a statement giving his O. K. to the man who beat the boots off him at the Baltimore convention. In all fairness to everybody concerned it is proper to recognize the fact that the leadership exercised by President Wilson is directly responsible for the tariff legislation that has been enacted, and if the currency bill "gets through" at this session of Congress it will be because of "executive control"—or by any other name that would smell as sweet.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

STATE OF MAINE

A Proclamation by the Governor

In recognition of a custom established by our forefathers, and the regular and helpful observance of the same through many generations, and in conformity with our statutes, with the advice and consent of the Executive Council, I do hereby appoint and set aside

Thursday, November 27, 1913 as a day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise to Almighty God

in recognition of His power, goodness and mercy.

More happy than ever in the numerous blessings which have been ours during the past year; and believing our prosperity and improvement in moral and spiritual life have been equal, if not greater than those of previous years, let us one and all in our churches and homes return thanks for these blessings to the Great Giver of every perfect gift.

GIVEN at the Executive Chamber, at Augusta, Maine, this fourth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-eighth.

WILLIAM T. HAINES,
Governor.

By the Governor,
J. E. Alexander,
Secretary of State.

A TRUE DAUGHTER OF EVE.

Home study for Johnny had just begun and he found it hard himself to regulate hours. At bedtime one evening his father said:

"Tommy, I am not at all pleased with the report your mother gave me of your conduct today."

"No, father, I knowed you wouldn't be, an' I told her so, but she went right ahead and made the report. Just like a woman, ain't it?"

FIFTEEN
IS ENOUGH

As much as any man ought to pay for a ready to wear suit of clothes, providing he does not care for every new wrinkle that goes with every new style, every new cut, every new model.

$15.00

Is enough to pay for a good suit of clothes. We sell $15.00 suits that are good. We claim and do give extra value for $15. Some time ago we concluded that $15.00 for a suit was a popular price with 75 per cent. of all the men that buy their clothes of us; therefore for some time past we have based our buying of men's suits in a way that enables us to sell a good suit for $15.00.

You can buy at our Store for $15.00 blacks, blue serges, plain and fancy worsteds, cassimeres, etc. The cloth in the garment is good, and the lining is good, the canvas, the hair cloth, the padding, the stay, every part of the inside of the coat is good quality. The $15.00 suits we sell are stylish, well made and they are sold to give satisfaction.

Every man that buys a suit of us for $15.00 buys it for exactly the same price that the man before him paid for the suit. We have no $15.00 suits for $14.00 ones we do not sell $15.00 for $16.00, $15.00 is the price. No shirts, no suspenders, hats or gloves thrown into the bargain, but $15.00 for the suit "only." We give extra value. Some may contradict us in our claim, but we know.
